

Warboys – Ramsey Rd at St Mary's Green – Carriageway/Footway delineation faded - DANGEROUS

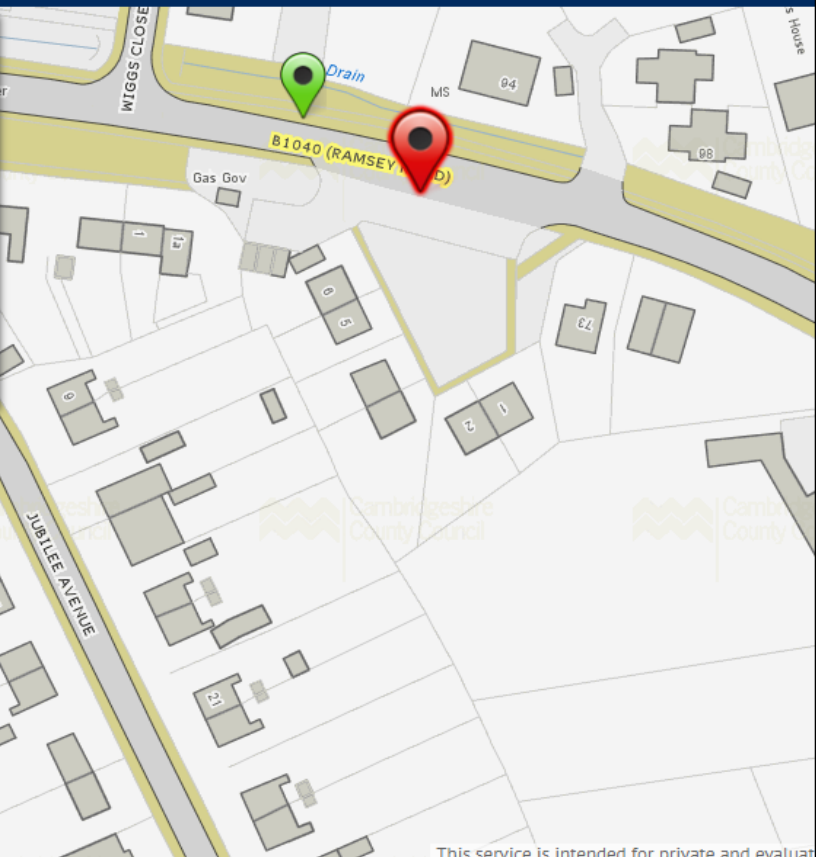

highwaysreporting.cambridgeshire.gov.uk

Report It  Cambridgeshire County Council

Key RAMSEY ROAD, WARBOYS

Report Logged

Reference: 346152
Report Type: Signs, lines and street furniture
Sub Type: Lines/markings need re-painting
Location: Warboys, Ramsey Rd @ St Mary's Green residents' Car park
Reported: 24/08/2020
Description: Dashed white lines have faded such that some drivers on rounding the bend cannot determine the delineation of the carriageway that is also the delineation for a pedestrian footway crossing the car park thus placing both themselves and ...

This service is intended for private and evaluation

Reported Feb 20 Ref: and found deleted in Aug 20 – see pages 3 onwards

New Incident 23 Aug 2020 for Parish Council to monitor

Lucky – where luck is defined as the absence of deadly coincidence

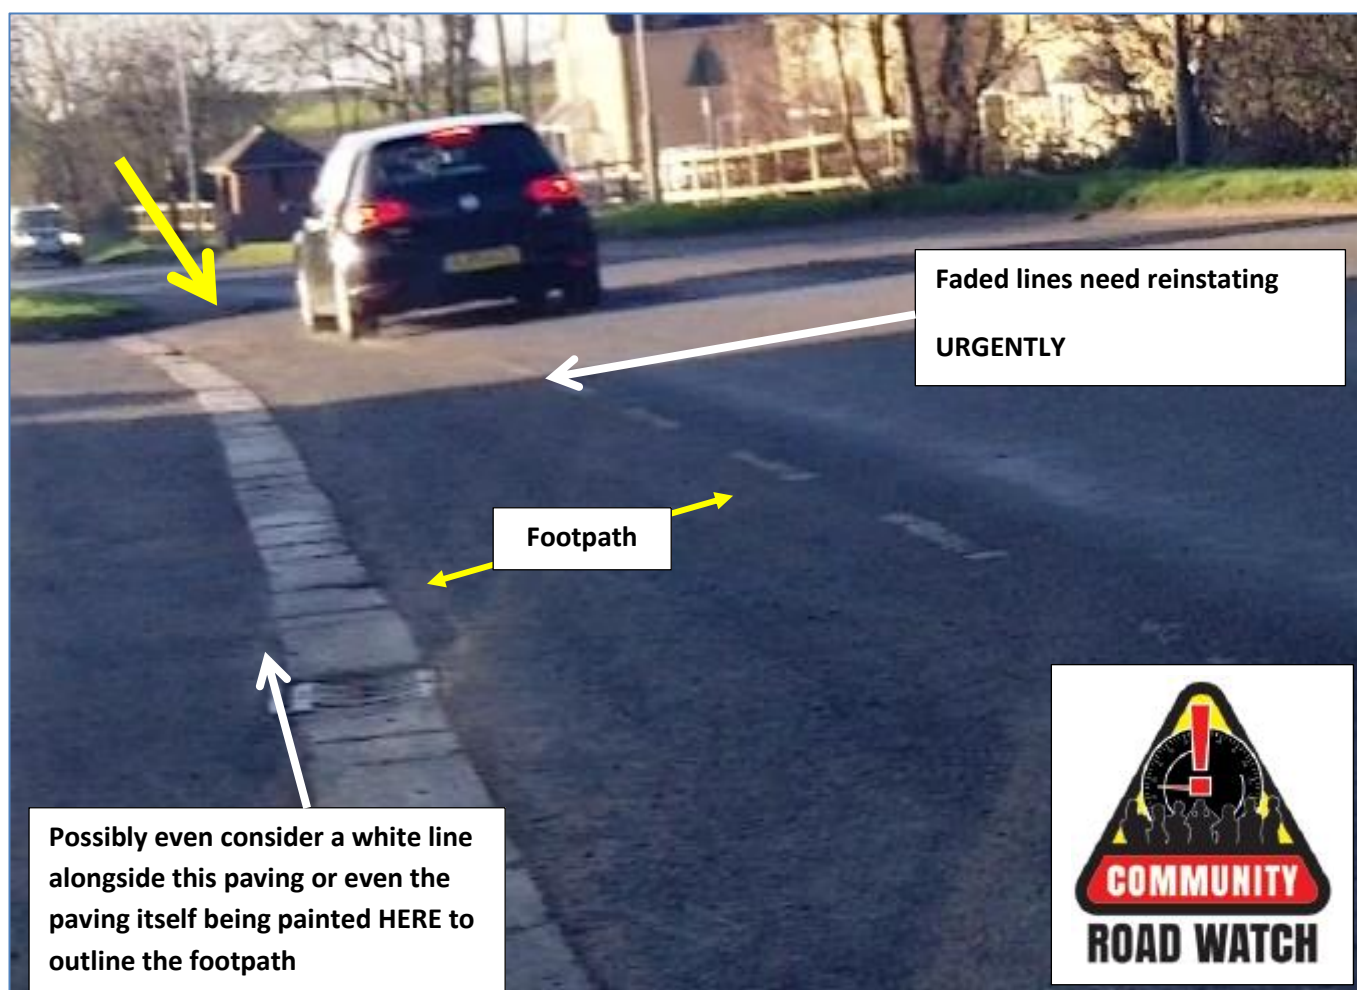

Feb 2020 Deleted Report follows

Warboys – Ramsey Rd – 080220 @St Mary's Green Residents' Car Park – Lucky or What?

Layby/Carpark demarcation lines faded making footpath demarcation unclear to both pedestrians & drivers

Car driver @40 mph blinded by afternoon sun is confused on where the carriageway boundary is, brakes and glances pavement

Video available on request to coord@roadwatch.org.uk

Reported to CC Highways on line 13/2/2020 with same day response with Ref: 00334939

140220 - Car actually Hits and then Rides on Pavement – video available from CRW

Warboys, Ramsey Rd, St Mary's Green – White Lines Need repainting URGENTLY- New Evidence 010920

OOPs!! Well Over the Dashed Lines that are hardly visible as drivers come round the bend

Just Moments later

2 Children pushing another younger child in a pushchair across the car park using the dashed lines as a guide

And quite a bow wave from a speeding tractor that did try to miss them but had there been an HGV coming the other way it would not have had the road width space to do so Needs a proper footpath around the car park and railings to stop inadvertent use.

Surely, the Parish Council and CC Highways cannot allow this to continue until routine maintenance of the lines takes place.

